

A new model for healthcare leadership

We've researched and developed a new Healthcare Leadership Model to help staff who work in health and care to become better leaders, and to provide better patient care.

The model is for everyone – whether you have formal leadership responsibility or not, if you work in a clinical or other service setting, whether you work closely with patients or you don't, or if you work with a team of five or 5,000.

It describes what good leaders do, and it will help you develop as a leader by showing you how your leadership behaviours affect culture and climate you, your colleagues, and teams work in.

For more about the model, visit www.leadershipacademy.nhs.uk

If you have any questions, email leadershipmodel@leadershipacademy.nhs.uk
or tweet us: @NHSLeadership